Closed For Approvals:	2023-08-29

Classification/Nature/Reason:

This is a Class II Administrative Charter Change Order, since it corrects a typing error stating the impact of administrative changes on the design of the Alchemy AOE community.

Details:

In CH-10, “CHANGE AUTHORITY”, second bullet point, first sub-point bullet, revise FROM:

Class II Administrative Changes are clerical and have impact on the intended design of the community.

TO:

Class II Administrative Changes are clerical and have no impact on the intended design of the community.

Whereby the word “no” has been added before “impact” to negate the meaning of the sentence.

Justification:

No reasonable stakeholder in a configuration-controlled system would draft critical, requirement defining documents that depend on “clerical precision”. Although readability is important, conveying the appropriate message, even by the context of poorly structured sentences or misspelled words, is the top priority.

Additionally, CH-10 provides a decision-tree for how to identify Class II administrative changes, which is repeated in Figure 1 below:

From the diagram in Figure 1, it is clear that although the meaning of a sentence could be dramatically altered by “spelling, blank field, formatting, obsolete link, etc.” the current revision of CH-10 grants permission to make corrections with minimal oversight (hence Class II admin process), as long as the context is unchanged. This revision brings the sentence in “CHANGE AUTHORITY” into better agreement with other configuration control systems (generally), as well as other sections of CH-10.
