

2/18/2022:

- 1) Written discussion of politics and/or religion is absolutely forbidden. This server was created to bond over our shared love of games, puzzles, and technical (object-oriented) problem-solving. It is not a platform for attempting to persuade others of your political/religious opinions.
 - 2) Bullying, harassment, and toxicity will not be tolerated. There's something of value in everyone, and we want them to bring it to this server. Do to others only what you would accept them doing to you. Criticism/negativity is allowed, but don't make it personal. It doesn't have to be.
 - 3) Content that is considered "Not Safe For Work" (NSFW) is prohibited, and anything in violation will be swiftly deleted by moderators, and depending on severity, may result in your immediate ban. If you're not sure if something is appropriate, then it probably isn't worth the risk.
 - 4) Avoid excessive pinging, and use channels for their appropriate topics. This includes "promotion". Life is difficult. Don't make people work extra hard to understand what the heck you're talking about, and don't cry wolf and solicit unnecessary reactions.
 - 5) Respect the decisions of admins/moderators. If you have an appeal, send it privately through a message to minimize public drama.
 - 6) This is an English-speaking server. When everyone speaks English we can enforce rules 1-5.

8/20/2021:

- 1) Written discussion of politics or religion are absolutely forbidden. This server contains talented players/thinkers from across the world who are 100% entitled to navigate its topics/threads without stumbling across dogmatic land-mines. It is not a platform for advertising your political/religious beliefs, and written commentary in violation of this rule will be deleted by moderators/admins.

Verbal discussion of politics/religion through our voice channels is discouraged but not forbidden. It is recommended that if people wish to have a political or religious discussion that they do so on one of the many servers dedicated to such a topic, or send each other private messages.

- 2) Bullying, harassment, and toxicity will not be tolerated. There's something of value in everyone, and we want them to bring it to this server. Do to others only what you would accept them doing to you.

Criticism/negativity is allowed but ascribing someone's "failures" to a character defect is forbidden. It's possible for example to be critical of game developers for their choices ("this unit is OP!!") without concluding that they're morons.

- 3) The community built through this server is refined and intended to represent the best of what our human civilization can produce. Content that is considered "Not Safe For Work" (NSFW) is prohibited, and anything in violation will be swiftly deleted by admins/moderators, and depending on severity, may result in your immediate ban. If you're not sure if something is appropriate, then it probably isn't worth the risk.
