

DEFINITIONS: Per CH-01.

OVERVIEW: Consistent upload of high-quality videos to the internet is important in maintaining and growing interest in any online gaming community, and Alchemy is no different. The Community is encouraged to stream, and Alchemy offers the {Streamer} role to any Member who wants it.

STREAMER ROLE: This document defines the benefits and responsibilities of the {Streamer} role in the Alchemy AOE Guild. Members may opt-in or out of the {Streamer} role at any time, and it will have no effect on their standing with the guild.

The benefits of having the {Streamer} role are:

- A bot will post in the announcements channel whenever the {Streamer} goes live.
- {Streamer}s can enter TV-voice channels directly, and move anyone from the assembly-hall voice channel to join them in TV-voice. This feature is used to protect broadcasts from intrusion by random server users.
- {Streamer}s can create “Events” in the Alchemy server to mark their presentations on the calendar.
- {Streamer}s are often invited by Alchemy leadership to broadcast guild-organized events and/or events with guild-created resources (for example, a tournament played on maps created by Alchemy members).

Members with the {Streamer} role are expected to:

- Include the !discord command in the chat of their broadcast, providing viewers a link to the Alchemy server.
- Refrain from introducing anyone to either TV-voice channel without certainty that they belong there.
